Some gamblers base their strategy on looking at past results and trying to figure out if some number has higher odds of coming up than others. The problem is that each Roulette result is independent, meaning that the past results don't affect future results. You can watch entire lectures on mathematics of independent events, but still some Roulette players refuse to accept this. They try to come up with different "hot numbers" strategies which never work. All you need to do is stake a minimum of $20 during the promo period, and for every five deposits you make on that day, you'll receive 10 free spins on the games. Casino moons
